preme Court of the United States:-90. Levy vs. A. T. Stewart & Co.-Error to the Circuit Court for the district of Louisiana .-This was an action by Stewart & Co. on a note of This was an action by Stewart & Co. on a note of Levy's, made in 1860. The defence was that the suit was barred by the Louishana statute of proscription. Judgment was given for the plaintiffs, the Court holding that the statutes oid not run during the time that the plaintiffs were debarred from commencing their action by reason of the existence of the war. This Court affirm that judgment, Mr. Justice Clifford delivering the opinion.

SUPREME COURT-SPECIAL TERM. Sult to Correct an Error in an Insurance Policy.

Before Judge Jones. James S. Price vs. The Lorillard Fire Insurance Company .- This action is for the purpose of reforming a policy for $4,000 on whiskey stored in the Patterson warehouse, in Philadelphia. The warehouse is divided into eight sections. An insurance was effected on twenty-seven barrels of whiskey stored in section A. The policy, however, set forth the whiskey as stored in another section. In December, 1868, the buildings were burned, and the defendants refused to pay the insurance on the whiskey, owing to this mistake in the policy. This suit was brought in equity for a correction. Considerable testimony was taken. The Court reserved its decision.

Still More Litigation in the Halstend Case. Jane F. Halstead v. David P. Halstead .- The fu particulars of this case has already been published. It will be remembered that the parties were divorced some twenty-five years ago, at which time the de some twenty-ne years ago, at which time the de-fendant was ordered to pay annually fifty dollars alimony to the plaintiff. Recently, upon an appli-cation for increase of alimony, Judge Barbour gave an elaborate opinion, ordering the defendant to pay $500 cash within twenty days and $500 annuity the rest of her life. On behalf of the defendant it is claimed that the Judge was misled as to her re-sources and indebtedness, and an application was made for an order to show cause wby the case shall not be argued, which order was granted.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS-SPECIAL TERM. An Assessment Case.

Before Judge Robinson. dc.-These suits were brought to restrain the assess ment of the property of plaintiffs, situated on Seventh avenue, for having that street paved from Four teenth to Flity-ninth street, for laying crosswalks at 111th, 112th, 113th, 114th streets, and for paving a certain part of 128th street, near Seventh avenue. The grounds taken by plaintiffs were that the avenue had been paved once at the expense of property holders along the line of the street, and could not be charged to them again; that the work was improperly done, and was first charged at the rate of five dollars per square yard, and then raised to $6.50, without any reasonable ground therefor; also, with regard to that part paved with the Hamar pavement, it was argued that, though the contract was given before the New Charter was passed, work was not commenced, and one of its provisions is that no street can be paved with patent pavement except with the consent of a majority of the property owners in the vicinity. The street between the tracks of the Seventh Avenue Railroad not having been paved, also furnish ground for objection. The case was argued yesterday at much length, after which the Court took the papers, reserving its decision. 111th, 112th, 113th, 114th streets, and for paving a COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Gunning S. Beaford, City Judge. THE TOOMEY CASE.

At the opening of the court yesterday Mr. Anthon, counsel for Michael Toomey, indicted for murder, said he desired some few days to prepare the case, and wished the District Attorney to fx upon a day tor trial. Judge Bedford said that it was imma terial to him what time was named-apy day that terial to him what time was named—any day that would suit the gentlemen on both sides would be agreeable to him. District Attorney Garvin said he was ready now to try the case, but as it was right that the prisoner should have time for preparation he suggested to set down the trial for Tuesday, the 28th inst. Counsel agreed to proceed at that time.

An ASSAULT.

Edward Bulger was tried and convicted of an assault with intent to do bodily harm to Henry Prager, on the 4th of this month, at a liquor saloon in Harlem. He cut him in the arm with a smail pocket knife. As Judge Bedford heard nothing against Bulger previous to this affair he sent him to the penitentiary for six months. Michael Kennedy, who was jointly indicted with Bulger, was discharged.

Bridget McCarty was fried and acquitted of charge of stealing two dollars from the pocket of Margaret Mudaney on the 7th of this ments.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

SUPREME COURT-CIRCUIT-PART I. Action Against the Erie Railway Company.

(Before Judge Paopen.)

es E. Ray vs. The Erie Railroad Company.-The plaintiff brought suit to recover $5,000 damage for being ejected from a train of the company, on the 20th of August last. He was with his little son, and had an excursion ticket, which he offered to the conductor, who refused to receive it on the ground that the time for which it was issued had elapsed. The conductor demanded the fare, which plaintin refused to pay. He and nls son were then put off the train. He returned, however, and, as he claimed, tendered the fare, which the conductor refused to take, and had him put of again. The defence denied that plaintiff tendered his fare. Judge Tappen granted a nonsuit in the case.

SUPREME COURT--PART 2. Action to Recover for the Killing of a Husband. Before Judge Pratt,

Margaret Hennessy, Administratrix, vs. Aaron P. Wilcox .- This is an action to recover damages in $5,000 for the death of John Hennessy, husband of $5,000 for the death of John Hennessy, insband of plaintif, which sho claims was caused by the neglect of defendant or his employés. Hennessy was a porter in the employ of Wilcox, who is a merchant doing business at 73 Duane street, in the city of New York.

On the 15th day of December, 1870, Hennessy stepped upon an elevator or dummy on the ground floor; it gave way and Hennessy's head and arises were caught between the top of the elevator and the busement floor. The injuries received by him were such that on the 21st of December, 1870, he died.

It is alleged by the plaintiff that the standing rope of the elevator was not properly fastened, and that the accident occurred wholly through the negligence of the defendant in not having it properly secured. It is claimed by the defendant mat the elevator was not intended for the use of persons, but for the conveying of goods up and down between the different floors of the building. It is also claimed that Hennessy had often been notified not to ride upon the elevator. Case on. the elevator. Case on-

COURT MATTERS IN WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

Opening of the Court of Oyer and Terminer-

The Sleepy Hollow Tragedy.
The March terms of the Circuit Court and Courts of Oyer and Terminer for Westchester county commenced at White Plains yesterday, before Justice Joseph F. Barnard, County Judge Robert Cochran and the Justices of Sessions. While the criminal calendar is said to be unusually light there are over 250 civil cases set down for trial, and which will more than consume the attention of the court during the present week. Expectation is on tiptoe throughout the county since it has been given out that Isaac V. W. Buckhout, the Sicepy Hollow murderer will again be placed on trial for his life next Tuesday, for which occasion it is understood that a panel of 400 petit jurors has been struck off. Despite the apparent preparations, however, many persons believe that Buckhout will not be tried at this or any other term of the court in Westchester county, as it is well known that his counsel are making strenuous efforts to flave his case passed upon by a commission de tunatico imputrendo, according to the decision of which they hope to shelter their client in an insane asylum and thus save him from the consequences of his twofold murderous crime. calendar is said to be unusually light there are over

THE WILLIAMSRURG MYSTERY.

Was Edward L. Conklin Murdered for Four Dollars and Fitty Cents-Conflicting Testimony-A Post-Mortem Examination Ordered-Adjournment of the Coroner's Inquest. Coroner Whitehill empanelled a jury yesterday for the purpose of investigating the case of Edward L. Conklin, whose body was found in the Washington basin, foot of Taylor street, Williamsburg, on Sunday, and the inquisition was then adjourned until Friday evening next. In the meantime Dr. Joseph cribed in 7esterday's HERALD was sufficient to scribed in resterday's Herald was sufficient to cause death.

Coroner Whitehill has also made extensive arrangements to thoroughly investigate the mystery, he has already obtained important information. With the aid of the police he has ascertained that on Saturday afteraoon Conklin collected five dollars from a man named Brown, for whom he had done some work. At eight o'clock the same evening he called at Finley's liquor store, corner of Hall street and Park avenue, where he changed a five dollar bill to apy fifty cents that he oved. He left this liquor store perfectly sober with the balance of the bill ($4 50) in his pocket.

BARNEY M'MAHON'S STORY.

Creamer will hold a post-mortem examination, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the wound de-liquor store periectly sober with the balance of the bill ($4 50) in his pocket.

While endeavoring to trave Conkin from Finley's liquor store to Washington basin, Coroner Wintenill was informed that Barney McMahon, a tow boy at the Cross-Town Railroad, had stated that he assisted Conkin to get on a car or that line at haif-past ten o'clock on Saturday night, near Park avenue, and that he was staggering drunk at that time. An officer was immediately sent after the boy, and he was found at the residence of his parents. When the officer first spoke to this boy of what he had heard the boy denned it, saying that he was at home on Saturday evening and was in bed at the hour mentioned, and his parents confirmed his statement. But when the Coroner confronted him he told precisely the story originally attributed to him, and a boy of his acquaintance present confirmed the truth of it. The Coroner thereupon placed the boy under the custody of Captain Woglom, and immediately took measures to ascertain the names of the drivers and conductors of the cars of the Cross-Town Kailroad who were likely to be at the point indicated by the boy at the hour when he says he nelped Conkin to get on one of them.

The neighborhood where Conklin's body was found is one of the worst. In Brooklyn, and since the com-pletion of the Wallabout improvement the river thieves have made it their rendezvous.

AMERICAN AID IN THE WAR

National Philanthropy to the European Belligerents.

Boulogne-Sur-Mer (Feb. 20) correspondence of London Post.)

The diplomatic and consular representatives of the United States have, during the invasion of France, been called upon to perform many arduous and difficult duties. The North German Confederation asked the government of Washington to adow the diplomatic and consular agents of the United States to place German subjects under their protection during the war. The demand was acceded to, and Mr. Washburn, at Paris, and American Consuls and Vice Consuls all over France had complicated duties to perform. When war was declared many thousands of Germans were to leave France. The Emperor of Germany placed a fund at the disposal of Mr. Washburn for assisting German subjects who had little or no funds to perform their journey. It must be remembered that the majority of Germans living in France were artisans and laborers. How not; but certain it is they arrived at the frontiers and ports of France often positively destitute. The American Consul General does not appear to have anticipated such a contingency, and the United States consuls were called upon often to provide money for poor Germans with their families on their way home. Of course these disbursements will be refunded.

Mr. John de la Montaigne, the United States Consuls were called upon by hundreds not only to attach his cisa to their passports, but in many instances to advance money. This gentleman has discharged his duties with great assiduity and benevolence, He has attached his visa also to the passports of hundreds of Franc cittzens and foreign subjects proceeding to Paris during the armistice.

Mr. Washburn, at Paris, assisted by Colonel Hof-man, first secretary, and Colonel Frank Meare secretary, and Colonel Frank Meare secretary. [Boulogne-Sur-Mer (Feb. 26) correspondence of Lon-don Post.]

foreign subjects proceeding to Paris during the armistice.

Mr. Washburn, at Paris, assisted by Colonel Hoffman, first secretary, and Colonel Frank Moore, assistant secretary, of the United States Legation, have been of infinite service to Frenchmen as well as Germans. The American ambulance has proved to be the most successful and best organized of these valuable aids for reheving suffering and sickness. The generosity and intelligence of America during the war will be long remembered among a people who stood by America in her great struggle for independence, in which the whole world now rejoices.

ANOTHER LANDMARK GOING

Selling Out the Furniture of the Union Place

To-day, and for the next three days, the furniture, fixtures, appurtenances, wines and liquors, &c., of the Union Place Hotel, corner of Broadway and Fourteenth street, will, be soid at auction by the the Messrs. Miner, auctioneers. The sale will comthe Messrs. Miner, auctioneers. The sale will commence on the sixth story, and be continued down from story to story until the basement, with its various store rooms, is reached. Judging from the well known style in which the hotel has been conducted, and the refined selection of the general furniture of the entire house, the auction will, no doubt, be well attended. The passing away to other purposes of this old hotel is only another instance of how fast are disappearing the familiar landmarks of the city. Messrs, Butler & Gilmore, of the Theatre Comique, have secured the site for the purpose of erecting thereon a fine theatre, and will commence the work of demonishing the old building on the 1st of May next.

THE BOSTON, HARTFORD AND ERIE RAILROAD.

HARTFORD, March 20, 1871. A meeting of the creditors of the Boston, Hartford and Eric Railroad Company was held before John Hooker, Register in Bankruptcy, to-day. Claims to the amount of nearly four hundred thousand dollars were proved. The largest claims were at M. Clark & Co., of Boston, $265,000; J. C. Ayer & Co., of Lowell, $28,000, and Oliver Ames & Co., of Easton, $4,000. Charles S. Bradley, of Providence, George M. Barnard, of Boston, and Charles R. Chapman, of Hartford, were unanimously chosen assignees. Mr. Chapman was notified and immediately accepted.

MONDAY, MARCH 20-6 P. M. On 'Change to-day wheat was active and buoyant. The cotton market was heavy and prices a fraction lower.

OUR POREIGN TRADE FOR 1870. The statistics of our foreign trade for the year 1870, as just complete i and published by the bureau at Washington, afford very interesting and instructive information. It seems that the barance of trade against us, and for which we have settled by specie exports to the extent of $55,000,000, was about $57,000,000, and that the total exports for the year were only about $2,000,000 less than the imports. If, however, we take into consideration that the stocks of imported goods still in warehouse at the close of 1870 were nearly $4,000,000 greater than at the close of 1969, is results we have really overpaid Europe for the goods introduced during the year, and that we started at the beginning of 1871 with a credit of $2,000,000 m our favor. Furthermore, the year was one in which, owing to the war between France and Prussia, there was an unusual drain of specie from this country, the amount so taken having been from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. The annual specie product of the country is about Therefore, as we must look upon our gold and silver as merchandise, we have exported just about as much as we imported. In 1869 the balance of trade against us was just $100,000,000, or nearly twice as large as in 1870. For this difference we settled with $46,000,000 in specie and $54,000,000 m government bonds and other American securities. Despite this satisfactory reduction of the adverse balance the imports of 1870 were larger than 1869-viz., $461,115,087, against $438,585,994. These figures are significant. They should terminate the gloomy croaking of those who will not see that the country is growing richer every year in face of the drawbacks of a depreciated currency and a not over wise financial system.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE HIGHER. The leading bankers again advanced the rates for sixty day sterling, which they marked up to 110. The closing quotations were:-Sterling, sixty days, commercial, 109% a 109%; good to prime bankers', 109% a 110; sight, 110% a 110%; Antwerp, 5.17% a 5.12%; Switzerland, 5.161/2 a 5.121/2; Hamburg, 357/4 a 361/4; Amsterdam, 40% a 41%; Frankfort, 40% a 41%; Bremen, 78½ a 79½; Prussian thalers, 71½ a 72.

MONEY MORE ACTIVE. There was a rather better demand for money, but rates on call were unaltered and continued to be quoted four to five per cent on stocks and four per cent on government collaterals. Prime commercial paper was dull at 614 a 7 per cent.

GOLD UNSETTLED-110% A 111%. The revolution in Paris produced some unsteadiness in the London quotations for five-twenties, which were unsettled, within a limit, however, of only & per cent. The fact was sufficient, however, to arrest the weakening tendency of the gold market succeeding the impression that Mr. Boutwell will largely increase his bond purchases and gold sales in April, particularly as the leading bankers advanced the rates of sterling. Had not the latter influence been introduced it is probable that gold would have gone off again on the theory that the revolution in France will put a stop to the negotiation of the new French loan in London and let Mr. Boutwell introduce the United States loan with better chances of success. The New York Typographical Society will meet on Saturday evening to adopt suitable resolutions in regard to the death of Judge Ellis Lewis, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Penusylvania. Judge Lewis, who was originally a printer, joined the society in March, 1817. The Police Commissioners yesterday transferred Captain McCleary, of the Eighth precinct, to the Twenty-eighth, he changing places with Captain McDonneil. He is the individual who by leaving nis station house fifteen minutes ahead of time Sat-urday night, caused about six hundred keno players to escape from the various dens in the Fourteenth and Fliteenth precincts. Josephine Wilson, of No. 83 James street, charged Matilda Shakelton, before Justice Hogan, at the Tombs Police Court, yesterday, with having, with a knife, cut through her dress and inflicted a deep wound in her left side. Matilda, who stated that she was a waitress, denied the assault altogether, and said that complainant and another female were fighting and she interfered to protect the other. She was committed. Coroner Young was yesterday called to the Morgue thirty-five years of age, which was found floating in the dock foot of Fifty-second street, North river, Deceased was five feet seven inches in height, with dark complexion and hair same color. He wore a suit of dark clothes, blue woollen shirt; and calfskin boots. Nothing was found in the pockets of deceased by which he could be identified. For several days past a small sized man, of dark complexion and black hair, neatly attired, has been obtaining goods at various stores in the upper part of the city on bosus checks, signed Steinway & Sons and endorsed M. J. Parker. The check is always from twenty-five to fifty dollars in excess of the amount of goous purchased, and the fraudulent operator invariably receives the difference in amount in cash. The police are on the lookout for him. An inquest was yesterday held by Coroner Herrmann in the case of George Shortell, the child three years of age who was killed in Twenty-eighth street near Second avenue, on Saturday last, by being run near Second avenue, on Saturday last, by being run over by a team of horses attached to a truck driven over by a team of horses attached to a truck driven by John Dierker. In their verdict the jury censured Dierker for driving at too great a rate of speed, and after a reprimand from Coroner Schirmer about rapid driving in future was discharged from cus-tody.

No. 318 Pearl street, the Coroner's jury, after a full examination into the circumstances, rendered the examination into the circumstances, rendered the following verdict:—That deceased came to his death from injuries received by the breaking of a chain used for hoisting a massive piece of iron, and we censure Messrs. Middleton & Ritchie for using so weak a chain and for not cautioning deceased from leaving the building while the iron was being hoisted, they knowing that there was danger of the chain slipping. A meeting of the Alumni of the University at Lewisburg, Pa., was held yesterday afternoon at the Astor House. The meeting was largely attended by Astor House. The weeting was largely attended by the graduates of the University. Chauncey B. Ripley delivered an able and interesting address, dwelling at considerable length upon the object and benefits of the Alumni Association. At the conclusion of the address the following officers were elected:—C. B. Ripley, president; Alfred Taylor, vice president; Rev. T. A. K. Gessler, secretary, and D. E. Rue, treasurer. The association adjourned, to meet again on the 23th of April.

On Saturday afternoon a man entered the ware house of Purdy & Nicholas, 45 Beaver street, and asked the cash for a small draft which purported to be drawn on E. K. Willard, of No. 11 Broad street, by his brother, of the firm of De Forest, Willard & Co., No. 7 Broad street, at the same time stating that his friends, Giendinning, Davis & Amory, of No. 17 Wall street, would have cashed it had they not sent their cash box to the safe in the Stock Exchange vaults. Purdy & Nicholas sent the draft to Glending. Davis & Amory, who of course know techning. values. Purely & Nicholas sent the diant to Gendin-ning, Davis & Amory, who, of course, knew nothing about it. The endorsement of E. K. Willard was inspected by Mr. Amory and declared a forgery. An effort was now made to arrest the guilty party, but he had taken alarm at the delay in the proceedings above, and decamped before the messenger turned.

Justice Bennett held an inquest yesterday, at Fort Hamilton, on the body of a man found on the shore at Bay Ridge. Deceased was about forty-five years of age, and was dressed in a brown cassimere coat, gray mixed pants, black cloth vest, white shirt, woollen undersbirt and coarse boots. A pair of silver spectacles was found in his pocket.
